

ABSTRACT

Disclosed is an overall process for selling life insurance across a network. The process can include an automated determination of user requirements; electronic data exchange with external parties; an underwriting process; and issuance of a policy and payment collection.

5

20340096.doc

20340096.doc